

The Light of My Life By Lois Miles

You sneak into my bed at night,
When you have a nightmare,
And if you get scared again,
You cling to me even tighter.
You follow me around
Light up when I call your name.
I was there with you from the start to now.
Even when you first came.

Cause you're the Light of My Life,
My little brother.
The light of my life.
Love you forever.
And I'll always be there standing by your side
And I'll be there to help you.
Cause life's a wild ride,
And you're the light of my life.

I love how you snuggle against me
And whisper "Sister I love you."
I love you and I comfort you
Cause I know I'll always love you.
You can be sweet but you can be sour,
But that's what I love about you.
Although it can be hard sometimes,
I know I love it too.

Cause you're the Light of My Life,
My little brother.
The light of my life.
Love you forever.
And I'll always be there, standing by your side.
And I'll be there to help you.
Cause life's a wild ride,
And you're the light of my life.

I know that I love you, I say that I hate you,
But you're everything to me.
I know that I love you, I say that I hate you
But you're everything to me.

Cause you're the Light of My Life,
My little brother.
The light of my life.
Love you forever.
And I'll always be there, standing by your side.
And I'll be there to help you.
Cause life's a wild ride,
And you're the light of my life.
