

Honoring the Quest

It is a privilege now
to share my point of view
with those I value dear:
How can I interest you?

This question is
a piercing arrow,
which will keep me on
the straight and narrow.

I'll stow it in my quiver
and strap that to my side;
now onward we shall go,
well-guided in our stride.

Keeping ego sheathed,
humble yet courageous,
our quest in part a question;
our searching, most contagious.

Ours is to reason why,
not blindly do and die,
with cannon high and nigh,
indebted to the Light Brigade.
