

Renewal

What do I have to offer you
to make your life more free?

I have my loves,
you have yours,
so what is there
worth giving thee?

Maybe it's really not what I try to say
that will brighten up
your quite well day,

but that I try at all
to reach out to you
and honor the we-ness
that we once knew,

and share the days,
and spend some time
in looking for
the Promised Land.

What do you have
to offer me
to raise my hopes
and make me free?

I have you,
you have me,
and together
we shall see.
